

WELCOME SANTANA 20 SAILORS Regatta Week

We have planned a week of great sailing, but that's not where it ends. You are in wonderful Oklahoma where we are celebrating our Centennial. Our Santana 20, 2007 National Championship Regatta has been approved as an Official Centennial Project. It is also the 30th Anniversary for the Santana 20 Nationals.

We want to be sure you are entertained both on and off the water. We have a full schedule, of which we hope everyone will take advantage. We have designed the regatta with a variety of entertainment and fun that will be convenient for you to participate in, even after the day on the water. Read what is provided for you with your entry fee. It is a value package you can't beat. Also notice that Andrew Kerr will do his traditional sailing seminar. He will be using the Tuesday practice race for critiques.

For our sailors we will have the sail area mostly to ourselves and it is just out side of the cove from the Windycrest Sailing Club. For those not sailing it is easy to relax at the club or go in to Tulsa to shop, or visit the famous Gilcrease Museum, or the Aquarium, you get the idea. We have plenty of cowboy and Indian based places to visit. It is a great part of our Oklahoma heritage.

If you need boat parts or any kind of sailing gear we have a West Marine store in Tulsa. If you have a problem with your sails, Roger Kerr of Kerr sails may be able to help you.

We want you to feel welcome and we want you to come to Oklahoma "where the wind comes sweepin' down the plain."
